Job Search Boot Camp 2010

“Job Search Boot Camp” will help job seekers enhance their preparedness by providing practical tools and advice regarding the art of the successful job search.

OCPA and OASPA will host this post-conference opportunity with a focus on the Student Affairs Job Search on Friday, January 29th from 1p.m. to 4p.m. Registration is $15 and includes three sessions:

Session I: Basic Training

- Understanding the hiring process timeline across student affairs functional areas
- Minding your digital identity & making effective use of online professional networking sites
- Marketing yourself successfully from first contact to on-campus Interview

Session II: Strategy Session

- Making the most of national or regional conference/convention participation
- Effective interviewing at the ACPA or NASPA convention
- Mapping out your strategy and avoiding job search “burnout”

Session III: Decision Time

- Assessing campus culture, researching institutions, and determining what makes a good “fit”
- Accepting or declining a job offer with grace and poise
- Options and advice on a prolonged job search
